The cost of printing up this matter would be prohibitive. Not less than Rs.150/-. It would therefore be preferable to apply to Government for spare copies. May we do so ? Apart from high cost, the Residency Press is now shorthanded. There is a mass of judicial records to be printed and they are short of type as a number of matters are in proof, the final disposal of which is held ur

The question of printing copies at the Residency Press was ruled out in paras 1 to 5 of these notes. We have supplied* all copies which the Political Department and this Residency could spare. As copies are out of stock with the Manager of Publications and as the Commissioner considers it essential to have more copies in any case, the only course appears to be to make typed copies, which ~~seems to requires~~ involves enormous labour and prohibitive expense. There seems to be a great demand for these rules, and most probably they will be reprinted by the Government of India Press in due course. If it is not possible to wait till the stock is replenished, the Commissioner may arrange to make additional copies as suggested above. The set of notifications received with his letter of 14th* September may be returned.

Please see the linked file below. The Manager of Forms Press is being asked to expedite.

The Commissioner may see file u.o. for his opinion.
